CONCEALED WEAPONS CARRY CLASS INFORMATION SHEET

Greetings!

This information sheet is for those interested in applying for a Missouri state Concealed Weapons Carry “CCW” Permit. Most questions will be addressed in class, such as where and exactly how to apply, but this information sheet is to give you general guidance before you attend training.

For the Classroom: First – you do not have to have a firearm to attend training. In fact, it may be to your advantage to attend the class and see what others use and ask questions of your instructor before spending your money. Your instructor will demonstrate proper firearms safety and handling, and give an overview of the various types of firearms suitable for civilian concealed carry. If you do bring a firearm to the class- please do not bring it into the classroom as you will not need it for the class portion of the training. Do bring a pen/pencil and paper. You will want to take notes.

WARNING! FOR SAFETY PURPOSES
NO STUDENT IS ALLOWED TO POSSESS OR CARRY A LOADED FIREARM
DURING THE CCW CLASS. THERE WILL BE NO LOADED FIREARMS IN THE CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT.

For the Firing Range: If you are bringing your own firearms to the range, ensure they are unloaded.

Missouri requires you demonstrate proficiency with both a revolver and a semi-automatic. These do not have to be the firearms you will actually carry once you have a CCW permit, so .22 long rifle firearms are fine. We strongly recommend you do not bring single-action (cowboy) type revolvers, but if that’s all you have, we will work with you. For semi-automatics: have sufficient spare magazines - ideally at least two. If you have holsters, magazine pouches, etc. you should bring one for each type weapon.

Note: If you are requesting to fire our TAG, LLC training weapons, contact the instructor in advance.

Bring 40 rounds of .22 Long Rifle ammunition (No 22 ‘shorts’ or 22 ‘longs’) from a major manufacturer.

1. You will need a minimum of Twenty (20) rounds of practice type ammunition for each type weapon, revolver and semi-auto. This means a total of 40 rounds. No “Magnum” ammunition will be permitted, above .22 Magnum. If you are shooting a .357 Magnum revolver, .38 Special practice rounds will do. If you have a .44 Magnum revolver, bring .44 Special practice ammunition.

2. You will need comfortable clothing, suited to the outside weather, including shoes and pants with a sturdy belt. Jeans are OK. Light woven cotton fashion belts, pants with no belt loops, etc. should not be worn. Wear good, comfortable shoes and socks (running shoes are OK) as you will be outside several hours. Flip-flop sandals, loose shoes or shoes with little support for uneven ground, etc. should not be worn.

3. You must bring eye and ear protection. Ear protection may be the foam insert type but full coverage ear 'muffs' are considerably better. The best eye protection is impact resistant and 'wrap-around' style to protect your eyes from flying brass, dust, etc. For sunny days, dark grey or brown lens are best, but use clear lens for cloudy days. Orange or yellow colored 'hunting' or 'shooting' lenses are for deep woods or semi-dark cloudy days and designed to raise contrast. Wearing such lens on a sunny day can damage your eyes! We also strongly recommend a ball cap to shield your eyes and prevent brass from getting between your eyes and your eye wear!

4. We recommend foul weather protective clothing (rain/cold/etc.) and wear layers in cooler temps that you can remove or add back while on the firing range. There is usually little cover or windbreak once out on the range. Even on warmer days we recommend a light jacket or wind breaker. For the very hottest days, sun block and a light colored hand towel to wipe sweat is a good idea.

5. Regardless of the weather you should have water, light snacks, any comfort items necessary, and a folding chair. There generally are no latrine facilities at the firing range. Those with difficulty standing for more than a few minutes may be allowed to fire the course from a seated position on a case-by-case basis. Questions on this? Call us ahead of time!

6. The cost of course is $75.00 per person. To register, go to www.TAGTRAININGLLC.com and fill in the application. Payment of a non-refundable $25.00 deposit must be made once a firm class date is set, but tuition should be completely paid before the training day to lock in your seat. If you have questions or need to make unique arrangements, please feel free to email us at TAGINFORMATION@AOL.com or call at (417) 718-3823.

Thanks for your interest in obtaining a Missouri CCW Permit, and thanks for checking into TAG, LLC! Please vote responsibly by looking at the sample ballot ahead of the election and investigating all candidates, especially state and local as to their stand on your gun rights.
